VA disability pension is a benefit paid to wartime veterans who have limited or no income, and who are 65 or older, or, if under 65, who are permanently and totally disabled due to non-service connected conditions. VA disability pension is unlike traditional pensions which are based on years of employment or service with a company or organization. Veterans who are more seriously disabled may qualify for increased benefits based on Aid and Attendance or being housebound.

Widows/widowers and dependent children may also qualify for death pension benefits, which is a needs based benefit paid to an unremarried surviving spouse, or an unmarried child of a deceased wartime veteran.
